

Implementation

We want children of all abilities to develop their confidence to perform music: understand how to improvise, compose, and evaluate music through the skills they have learnt.

We use 'Kapow Primary Music' to support our delivery of the curriculum. This is specifically aimed at the non-specialist, to deliver curriculum music.

Music skills are taught progressively across the year groups.

All children have the opportunity to perform to a wider audience through class assemblies, school performances and community events.

Further Opportunities:

Children watch performances by visiting musicians or at the theatre.

Children in Reception and Key Stage 1 perform a Christmas concert and Y3 perform a Christingle concert. Y4, Y5 and Y6 are involved in an end of year production- involving singing, dancing and acting.

Organisation

In EYFS, musical activities are provided as part of the topic work.

Key Stage 1 and 2 have curriculum music teaching time each week.

Oracy & Music

Music lessons provide many natural opportunities for oracy development (speaking and listening skills). Oracy is about children's ability to express themselves clearly, listen actively, build ideas through talk, and use language for reasoning and creativity, and music is a powerful context for this.

For example: storytelling through music, links to drama, negotiating roles in ensemble work, constructive dialogue about performances, describing sounds and music and developing musical vocabulary; as well as offering their opinion about a piece of music.
